RACE COURSE

Terrain: On natural paths in a volcanic environment of incomparable beauty and alternations of the alpine landscape in firs and trees...

From its fringes to its summit, Mount Goulinas (alt. 1460 m) located above Sperchiada (Race Village al. 252 m), has a highly impressive network of trails that combines with the best place for the rider the speed and technique... Starting from the rocky path we end up among the fir trees, before the change in the landscape passing between oak and holly trees.

Maybe it won't be the demanding race on technical parts, as much as the speed that will develop on the trails. But it will definitely be a race for everyone and our bet as an event is that it will be the fastest of the EGS this year.

Total course:

Route analysis and map will be announced on Friday, April 21, 2023.

The special stages will be unknown and closed until the start of the free training.

TRAINING

Training is only allowed on Friday, April 28 and Saturday, April 29, based on schedule.
